BACKGROUND

The programme is a strategic intervention to address some of the key issues in India's renewable energy development plans (e.g. National Solar Mission) which stress upon promotion of the use of renewable energy and development of associated service delivery mechanisms in the country.

Advit Foundation, a training partner of Skill Council of India, initiated the first Solar Electrical Training Programme in 2013 where 300 students were trained from the backward district of Mahendergarh in Haryana. In the following year in 2014 with the support from Ministry of New and Renewable Energy, GoI 300 more students were trained. Advit foundation in 2015 got recognized as a training partner with the Electronics Sector Skill Council of India (ESSCI) to impart solar trainings and set up the first Centre for Excellence on Solar Electronics at National Institute of Solar Energy (NISE) under leadership of MNRE and ESSCI. This led to taking the trainings to larger numbers and spreading to other states as well.

Applied Material Inc. under their CSR programme for the year 2015-16 decided to support the Solar Training Programme by Advit Foundation. In 2015-16, training has been imparted to 1000 participants. The commemoration between applied Material Inc. and the Chief Minister of Haryana led to the setup of a Solar training lab at HARTRON Gurgaon and subsequent training sessions in Haryana.

PROJECT SUMMARY

The Solar Electrical Training offered Solar Photovoltaics (PV) topics and technologies. PV technologies generate electrical power by converting sunlight into electricity using the photovoltaic effect. The training provided curricula and tools for four days on solar technology, know-how of solar skills and entrepreneurship training. The training guidebook helped build knowledge base that is required for design of systems, installation and maintenance. The experiment manual developed as part of the portable training kit enhanced understanding of technology usage and integration.

The key objectives of the programme have been:

- To create a standard solar electrical training programme that leverages a "train-the-trainer" model.
- To create a trained workforce with immediate job opportunities.
- To develop a network including training institute and corporate partnerships, and a centralized technology platform that can cater to India-specific renewable energy issues (service delivery, training, knowledge sharing and coordination etc.).
- To contribute to standardization of training curriculum.
- To create awareness on renewable energy technologies in the country and to share best practices among all stakeholders in the value chain.

Advit Foundation is a training partner with ESSCI and the content has been upgraded to meet the QPs set by them. The course aims at equipping the participants towards the basic understanding of Solar Photovoltaic System design, installation and maintenance.

The mode of training has been classroom and hands on practical training combined with field visits wherever possible. The classroom training is interactive and illustrative. The training has been a 4 days training, in batches of 50, with certification from the ESSCI if desired by the participant. We reached to 12 institutes spread over in Gurgaon, Rewari, Mahendergarh, Faridabad and Sikar and trained 1000 participants.

Content outline:

S.No	Module	Objectives
1.	Fundamentals of solar energy and electricity	Basic understanding of solar energy and electricity
2.	Basics of solar PV technology	PV technology working principle
3.	Battery, inverter, charge controller and MPPT	Basic understanding of battery, inverter, charge controller and MPPT
4.	Site survey and system design	Learn how to do a site survey and design an appropriate PV system as per quality standards and existing regulatory framework
5.	Electrical, mechanical and civil structures	Learn about different wiring connections, mechanical and civil structures required for a PV system and understand about installation and maintenance procedures
6.	Energy economics, entrepreneurship and software	Financial aspects involved in a PV system, entrepreneurship and software used for PV System design
7.	Soft skills	SOP for safe operations, Organizational behavior, Enhancing communication skills, Resume building, Team work, Importance of customer service and satisfaction, Reporting methods and MS Office essentials, Basics of project management

Modes of delivery:

Trainings were primarily undertaken at the participating institute:

- Class room theory classes and hands on practical training.
- Practical sessions were undertaken using portable training kits designed by Advit foundation.
- Each batch had around 30 - 50 students
- The students received soft copy of a guidebook.

PLACEMENT AND ENTREPRENEUR SUPPORT

The candidates who successfully completed the training received placement support in the form of interaction with professionals from solar companies and internship opportunities. Advit Foundation is constantly collaborating with solar companies to interact with participants during the training period.

The training module includes an entrepreneur development session. Besides business ideas, Advit Foundation also facilitated sessions from the banks on loans for set up of solar entrepreneurship business model.

PROJECT INNOVATION, SUSTAINABILITY AND CHALLENGES

An interesting innovation that led to going to the students to teach rather than they coming to attend the training has been our Portable Hands on Practical Training Kit. This kit has been evolved over the past one year and its current form has the versatility to accommodate 6 experiments in a single setup. An experiment manual has been developed which has a couple of additional experiments that are to be conducted without the kit along with the kit experiments.

Training of trainers has also been a very important component of this programme. Group discussions are encouraged and brainstorming sessions are also scheduled to encourage sharing of views and apprehensions

The commemoration between Applied Material Inc. and the Chief Minister of Haryana led to the setup of a Solar Training Lab at HARTRON Gurgaon (See Annexure).

The main challenge is that this training course is yet to be designed to teach individuals how to physically install solar modules, and other balance of system components. There is need for students to construct an actual array on a roof and installing the balance of components, including inverters, charge controllers, and battery banks for grid-tied and off-grid systems. This hands-on solar training course could provide better skills required to work for an installer or to work toward becoming a solar entrepreneur themselves. This however, requires the participants to spend a good amount of time as typically setting up a solar power plant takes at least 2- 3 weeks. Advit's partnership with HARTRON is being looked upon as a solution to this. There is plenty of space at HARTRON multi- skill centre and the institution is very supportive of this programme. Advit intends to conduct detailed programmes along with longer duration hands-on experience on the rooftop by means of setting up small power plants.

Advit also intends to setup village level entrepreneurship models. Through this model, we would be mobilizing the trained candidates to spend some time in setting up micro grids in the villages in Rajasthan where Advit foundation undertakes a large number of development initiatives. This will give the participants the necessary hands on experience to pursue a career as a Solar Installer.

ACHIEVEMENTS

A large number of students have been benefitted through the training. Total number of participants who attended the sessions were 1,011 (direct beneficiaries). Considering that each one that attended the training also influences 4 more people (2 family and 2 friends) the solar training programme indirectly influenced more than 4,000 people.

A few interesting initiatives that have emerged from the training programme are :

1. One participant from CIDC, Faridabad set up an entrepreneur model supply solar electricity to 80 households in his village.
2. Two engineering students from DAV Mahendergarh got selected in Police because of the solar training they undertook while in the final year of their engineering.
3. The hands on portable kits have become very user friendly and could become saleable too.
4. There was a tie up with the Haryana State Electronics Development Corporation (HARTRON) and a solar training lab has been set up in Gurgaon.
5. Out of the total 1000 candidates trained, 247 were female, which is 25% of the total number of trainees.
6. Out of the candidates at HARTRON and the ITIs at Gurgaon and Faridabad put together, 137 candidates have been assessed by the Electronics Sector Skills Council of India.

FEEDBACK SUMMARY

The feedback from the students was collected and the analysis is as follows

- 16% participants voted this programme to be good (3 stars) while 83% participants voted it excellent (4 stars).
- All the participants felt that this programme on Solar Electrical was explained very clearly to them and 99% of them agreed that they feel such a training programme is highly beneficial to them.
- Just 1 student from ITI Mahendergarh felt that the programme was not allowing them to focus on their regular curriculum.

Comments and suggestions were also invited as part of feedback from the participants.

Some special remarks

- Around 29% of the participants who had special remarks, appreciated the trainers and their training methodology used by specifically mentioning it in the feedback form.
- Around 45% students expressed their interest in learning more and commented that programme needs to be longer with more of practical work and site visits to various installations. However, due to restrictions in the respective institute's time table, devoting more time has been a challenge. This however indicates that the programme has successfully triggered the interest and attention of the students towards Solar photovoltaic technology.
- A few students also suggested that such a programme must be shown on national television and spread to more people in the rural areas.
